

Cindy Wolfe was born and raised in the Carolinas and attended Queens University of Charlotte where she was a Presidential Scholar. She has been in banking for 26 years. In 1998, she joined Bank of the Ozarks in Little Rock and eventually moved back to Charlotte and started a Loan Production Office. Cindy has served on the Girl Scouts, Hornets' Nest Council Board of Directors, the Board of Directors of the Rotary Club of Charlotte, and the Queens University Alumna Board of Directors. Cindy was 2009 President of CREW Charlotte and is a CCIM.

Honors include The Charlotte Business Journal's Women in Business Award, Mecklenburg Times' 50 Most Influential Women, Charlotte Business Magazine's Women Extraordinaire & Movers & Shakers awards, Girl Scouts' Honor Pin for outstanding dedication to Girl Scouts, CREW Charlotte's New Member of the Year award & commercial real estate Networking Deal of the Year awards in 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2010, and CREW Network's International Member to Member Business Award.

Cindy is married and she has two sons, ages 16 and 17. She and her husband, Gary, like to travel and spend time in the NC Mountains hiking and fishing.