

Dawn Keller joined the Crosland Board of directors October 2012. She brings an educators perspective to the Board having "clocked" 40+ years working with students with learning disabilities. In Baltimore, MD, she was program director for a school serving students with learning disabilities. Upon moving to Charlotte 29 years ago, she was employed by Child and Family Development as an educational specialist. In that capacity she evaluated, diagnosed and treated students from preschool through college age who were experiencing a wide range of academic and learning difficulties. During that time, Dawn also worked closely with the LDA of North Carolina serving as secretary of the Board of Directors.

Since her retirement 3 years ago Dawn serves in a private capacity as an educational consultant. Additionally, Dawn is active in adult literacy and works with adults through the Blue Ridge Literacy Council in Hendersonville, NC where she and her husband, John, are making their home.
