

Jesse Hite is a recently retired Civil Engineer after an over forty year career as a consulting engineer serving a wide range of both private and public sector clients. His career included experience as a design engineer, project manager and ended with his retirement as Regional Office Manager for an international engineering and planning firm. He is a graduate of Virginia Tech with a Master of Engineering degree from Old Dominion University; and, is licensed as a Professional Engineer in several states. Jesse has been active in professional and technical societies serving as an officer and director in the American Society of Civil Engineers, American Society of Highway Engineers, Water Environment Federation, American Water Works Association, the Virginia and North Carolina Societies of Professional Engineers and the American Council of Engineering Companies. Since retiring from his engineering career, Jesse has been serving as the Business Administrator for the First Presbyterian Church of Charlotte.

In addition to his technical and professional society involvement, he is a long time member of the Rotary Club of Charlotte, has served as a Deacon and Elder at First Presbyterian Church, served as a member of several Committees of the Presbytery of Charlotte and is a current director of the Presbyterian Publishing Corporation. He was a member of the Board of Directors of the former Dore Academy and also served as treasurer.